

MICHIGAN LOCAL FOOD COUNCIL NETWORK

U.P. Research & Extension Center
N5431 Rock River Rd., Chatham, MI

September 29, 2016 | 10:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

Join the Michigan Local Food Council Network for a meeting featuring hands-on activities, networking, and a legislative update with a spotlight on the recently introduced Urban Agriculture Act. The meeting starts at 10:00 a.m., includes lunch and will end at 2:30 p.m.

WALKING TOUR ALERT: Immediately following the meeting, attendees will have the chance to tour and learn about the North Farm, an incubator farm managed by Michigan State University Extension specializing in diversified organic vegetable production, research, education, and outreach for northern latitude climates.

Attendance is free and open to the public but registration is REQUIRED!

Please RSVP at <https://goo.gl/forms/AYTva4HxXMdDVYQK2>. For more information, contact Megan Masson-Minock at megan@enp-associates.com or 734-646-3163

The Michigan Local Food Council Network brings together food councils to build their individual and collective capacities to work on food and food policy issues, operate effectively, and engage their communities, through peer-to-peer learning.

For the Michigan Local Food Council Network, a local food council is a group convening around a defined geographic area to assess and recommend practices or policies that affect one or more aspects of the food system. All Michigan local food councils, or those interested in starting a local food council, are invited to participate in the statewide network.

The Michigan Local Food Council Network is sponsored by the MSU Center for Regional Food